Farmer's Market signs lease

The Drayton Valley Farmer's Market will begin another season on Wednesday, March 23.

Market manager Lynn Merschel says a new one-year lease has been signed with the Derrick Mall, site of the market.

The market, one of the most popular in Alberta, will continue to operate between 11:30 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Merschel will be assisted by Ruth Cooper this year. "It will be a busy summer for me as my daughter is getting married in August," Merschel said.

Plebiscite vote puts ball in gov't's court

By Frank Ryan
The next move is up to Municipal Affairs Minister Dennis Anderson.

Now that the school and annexation vote has been held, it's up to the minister to make a decision on the final boundaries for Improvement District 222.

Following are the results of the overall vote on the prospects of a new school division and annexation of several fringe areas into the new ID:

	Yes	No
School	1,165	918
Annexation	554	642

Reflects wishes

According to Doug McLellan, senior municipal advisor with municipal affairs and returning officer, last week's vote was nothing more than a plebiscite.

"The information will be forwarded on to the minister. It reflects the desires and wishes of the people," McLellan said.

McLellan also says the minister did not establish a percentage to determine if the school or annexation votes passed, or were defeated.

"If it's close I don't know what they will do," Earl Briscoe, interim municipal manager for ID 222 commented while the votes were being counted.

Briscoe expects the minister to make a decision before the end of the month. "It depends on political interplay," he added.

There was a champagne party last Wednesday at the junction of Highways 624 and 759.

The party, organized by Wayne Gent, president of the Tomahawk ratepayers association, was to celebrate their solid 'no' vote on both issues and to let Tomahawk people living south of Highway 524 know they would hopefully be joining the community shortly.

Gent says a letter went out last week to Anderson, asking for another vote, which would allow the 200 residents south of 624 and those between range 6 and 7, to leave ID 222 and join their fellow Tomahawk residents in the County of Parkland.

The ratepayers association president says a promise was made at a recent public meeting in Tomahawk, that if the people showed a strong 'no' vote, those living in ID 222 would be given an opportunity to vote.

"The fight's not over. We've got to get our community back together," Gent said.

Gent said he was pleased with the 14 yes and 199 no vote on the school issue and the 25 yes and 166 no vote on annexation.

"Residents came all the way back from Whitecourt to vote. That's how determined the people here are," Gent said.

One of the most disappointing turnouts was in Drayton Valley where roughly 10 per cent of the eligible voters took time to vote. The final count in Drayton Valley on the school issue only, was 222 yes votes and 69 opposed.

Is spring really here? Local residents enjoyed the mild weather last week by doing a little golfing, playing catch, flying kites and taking a spin on their motorbikes.

If you've lost your tax booklet, don't worry. The Drayton Valley post office has extra copies. In fact, they usually hand out 3,000 every year.

The County of Parkland placed a full page order ad in a recent edition of Alberta Report promoting the Olympics.

Mayor Bob Mayhew and members of the town board met privately with representatives of major industry and lumber last Wednesday to go over plans for the new arena.

It's the second time the two sides met, to discuss financial contributions to the project.

The Drayton Valley Gymnastics Club has received a $488 grant from the Alberta Sports Council. The money will be used to enhance the club's present competitive equipment pool with the purchase of a vault box.

Craig Warren, captain of the Drayton Valley Swifts Oilers, scored 29 goals and added 30 assists for 59 points and fifth place in the North Central Senior 'A' Hockey League scoring race. Jason Kipling finished in sixth place with 23 goals and 28 assists for 51 points.

In the final league standings, the Oilers placed fourth with a 13-3 win/loss record.

The Drayton Valley fire department was called out to a reported grass fire on Sunday.

The fire, however, was a controlled burn.

Darcy Carr, president of the Pembina Nordic Ski Club, is being transferred to Ecuador by Texaco. He is currently waiting for the Ecuadorian government to do some paperwork.

Steve Hall will take over as club president.

Expansion on rooms

Renovations planned for Shangri-La Lodge

By Frank Ryan
A major addition and renovation is on the drafting board for the Shangri-La Lodge.

Elsou Keown, chairman of the board of management at the lodge confirmed last week that Alberta Mortgage and Housing (AMHC) will be spending $2.4 million.

Architect Ray Sivertson

of Edmonton is currently working on plans to renovate the lodge, expanding their number of beds from 49 to 60. An addition will also be added to the senior citizens' facility.

Part of the renovation will see the existing rooms doubled in size. Rooms will also include a four-piece bath and a better crafts area is also planned.

Planning for the $2.4-million project is expected to last until the end of the year with construction slated for Jan. of 1989.

"There's been problems with the lodge. I'm not sure how they are going to approach the construction," Keown said.

The board of management made their original request for changes in 1984 and according to Keown, M.L.A. Shirley Cripps pushed for the work.

"It's been on the books a long time. It's good for our residents," Keown added.

AMHC who are funding the project, own the lodge and the land.

Peaceful memories of Calgary Olympics

By Steve Fletcher
Drayton Valley Cpl. Tim Vatanianuk says the success of security at the Winter Olympics can be measured by how little attention it drew.

Surprisingly, Calgary's crime rate went down during the month of February, said Vatanianuk, who added he was interested to know if the same were true for the rest of the province.

He and fellow officer Const. Jeff Smith were one of many RCMP officers from across Canada assigned to the Olympics for three weeks.

Smith was attached to VIP security while Vatanianuk was a shift supervisor for officers stationed at Canada Olympic Park.

As a perk, Smith was one of 12 designated skiers among security at the Olympics — meaning he had to accompany any dignitaries who wished to try out the slopes near Calgary.

When the king of Sweden wished such a challenge, Smith was one of four officers required to ski along with him.

He said he found the king's skiing abilities to be at the 'expert' level.

Smith was also a part of the small contingent of bodyguards around Governor General Jeanne Sauve when she visited the Olympics.

During the opening ceremonies, the constable was stationed in the VIP box with the Canadian head of state, albeit a few rows back.

There were a total of 10 security men in her 'cover team' during her stay in Calgary, said Smith.

Finally, Smith was assigned to the prime minister of Finland's entourage, where for three days he drove the advance car to various sporting events visited by the statesman.

Meanwhile, Vatanianuk's work at Canada Olympic Park wasn't as extravagant but just as gratifying.

He said his makeshift detachment's responsibility was to investigate any offences that occurred within the park's 160-acre confines.

While the overall crime rate was low, Vatanianuk pointed out that the "biggest thing we dealt with was the number of missing children...there must have been eight a day."

Although crowds at the park grew to 80,000 people on one day, he noted that the longest period of time a child was lost was four hours.

The huge support network of volunteers contributed immensely to the smoothly-run success of the Winter Games, contended Vatanianuk.

"I feel that security is best measured by how peacefully they are pulled off," he said, noting that a major incident could have swung memory of the Games in a different direction entirely.

Vatanianuk added that the friendliness of Calgarians and tourists alike helped to maintain this peaceful environment throughout the two-week Olympic event.

"It will stick in the back of my mind for quite a while," he said.

Tenders for arena

Tenders for Drayton Valley's new arena will be opened on March 15.

The town is expected to award the tender on March 22 with construction to start by the end of the month.

According to recreation director Paul Nielsen, the new arena is a 200-day project. Nielsen, who is also project manager for the new arena, expects the new facility to be ready for use by Oct. 1.

Meanwhile, the ice plant in the Centennial Civic Centre will be turned off April 10.

Originally the sod for the new arena was to be turned this Thursday, but that has been delayed.

Memberships, circulation up

Good things come in small packages

Despite their cramped quarters the Drayton Valley Municipal Library had another good year.

Statistics show an 11 per cent increase in total memberships.

All ages were up. Students by 15 per cent, adults by 14 and families by seven per cent.

Their circulation of books has gone from 10,159 in '80 to 55,442 last year.

It's hard to believe the chamber of commerce retail survey completed last August, that indicated 55 per cent of the households who answered the survey didn't use the library.

The Drayton Valley library is small. No one will question that. But, librarian Lois Peterson and her staff are to be commended for doing an outstanding job.

If you're a library user, you'll no doubt agree that it's a well stocked little library.

And, if the library doesn't have your book in stock, they will try and get it. Last year the library filled 94.6 per cent of the requests from the inter-library loan department.

The library board is looking forward to moving into the town's new administration complex (the existing arena). The long-awaited move is expected to result in more space.

While a new library is expected to increase use, the Drayton Valley Municipal Library, in its present form, doesn't have to take a back seat to anyone. They are doing an admirable job, with what they have to work with.

Keep up the excellent work.

Canada Post envelope creating problems for customers

Canada Post continues to make life complicated for its customers.

Their latest idea is a standard size envelope. The new envelope, 5 7/8 by 10 inches is an uncommon size.

But Canada Post doesn't seem to care.

You either get envelopes that size, so they fit into their sorting machines or, expect to pay more postage.

And, if you were to drop off an 8 1/2 by 11-inch envelope with 37 cents postage, you'll likely find it back in your box, asking for more postage.

The mail is slow enough now, without envelopes being put back in the customers' box due to an insufficient amount of postage.

And, if Canada Post had to come up with a new envelope, why didn't they pick a

Frankly Speaking

by Frank Ryan

common size?

It will be interesting to see what 'gems' Canada Post come up with when they introduce Supermailboxes here in the fall.

It won't be long before the town is turning the sod for the new arena and outdoor ice rink.

Before they proceed with the outdoor rink, they might ask around to see who's going to use it.

Using this year for an example, it was too mild up until the end of the year, to even make outdoor ice. Then in January, it was almost too cold to skate outdoors. Then in February, it warmed up and the outdoor rinks we now have, were wiped out.

A new rink will be nice. But, it won't solve the present ice woes. It's simply a trade off. Tear down the old rink and build a new facility.

Why are we getting a new rink? Probably because the town wants the site where the existing arena is located, to build a new fire hall, library and town office.

Formation of ID

Rondeau just continuing to do his job, writer says

Dear Editor,

There seems to be a great deal of misinformation about a lot of things as far as the formation of ID 222 is concerned.

First of all, I would like to say that Henry Rondeau was the elected councillor before the formation of ID 222. He is just continuing to do his job.

Mr. Booth was appointed too, yes, they are being paid by the taxpayers' money. Put yourself in their position: would you take over a horse's nest like this out of the goodness of your heart and not even get remuneration for your expenses, let alone your time?

It certainly would not have been reasonable to elect someone by Jan. 1, 1988 when the ID came into existence and, after the vote in March to determine the boundaries (I hope), have another election. It is only reasonable to appoint people for a short time and elect when we know who is in and who is out. Remember, elections cost!

The attempt to have self-government began in the late '60s and the group was spearheaded by Dr. Shimabashi, who was the mayor of Drayton Valley at that time. Their answer to the petition was that residents of the town could not take part in something like this, it had to be rural residents only.

Rural people gathered forces in the early '70s and the result was a Boundaries Commission hearing held in Drayton Valley. The rural residents were on one side — there were over 1500 names on the petition — counties of Leduc and Parkland on the other. Ho Harries, economic consultants, were hired against us and paid by our tax dollars.

The final outcome for us was defeat. Our approximate 35 per cent of the total revenue of Leduc and Parkland counties continued to be donated and we received back in improvements, etc., somewhere between 10 and 15 per cent.

Now to the present situation.

This began about three years ago — once again manned by rural residents. Once more a petition was required so an organization of workers went forth — completely without funding of any kind but their own. Once these names were submitted to the government, studies were done by the Department of Municipal Affairs and made available to the public.

Probably many of you didn't even notice. This issue has been in the news many times and almost every issue of our local paper in the past two years has mentioned what has now come to be known as ID 222. If residents were unaware of what was going on, could it be called willing ignorance?

Meetings were held in all areas concerned by the Department of Municipal Affairs. The County of Leduc was very vocal at meetings in their areas, so don't think there was no opposition. County of Parkland was not so vocal. Did you attend one of these informational meetings to find out what was going on?

The reason for this letter is to give newer residents a bit of background information. Our present situation is certainly not something that was just started by "the carpebaggers."

If you decide to remain with the County of Parkland, there is no problem at present as far as school attendance in Drayton Valley is concerned.

According to current information, both Tomahawk and Seba Beach schools are not operating to full capacity by any means. Do you want to stay in as far as schools are concerned? Kind of "have your cake and eat it too" situation. Perhaps your anger now is a case of locking the door after the horse is stolen. Don't let this be the case of a school situation down the road.

Some parents whose children were designated to attend a different school are known to have had disagreements with the County of Parkland, but finally won their case. The children are now attending school in Drayton Valley.

Do the residents of ID 222 not feel they would be better served as far as a new school district is concerned through self-government? Think about it! The decision you make now is vital to schools for perhaps some time in the future.

Dr. Losey, do you exclude yourself from "the misinformed rural people"? Your wording sounds like we have to be told what to think and so — not much of a mind of our own.

Whether you are pro or con as far as the new ID is concerned depends on you, but a lot of credit should be given to the "carpebaggers" and their predecessors who have done a great deal in finally making the dream of self-government close to a reality.

A carpebagger,

QCTV programming improved

Dear Editor,

QCTV has improved. Four Detroit stations was too much.

I was one who complain ed about the changeover. Television, in my opinion, has improved considerably, even better than Seattle stations, not so much repetition now.

Seven times out of 10 I prefer American television.

I am happy with this new change.

Money raised for Beehive Workshop at auction appreciated

Dear Editor,

On behalf of the Drayton Valley Association for the Developmentally Handicapped, I want to express our sincere appreciation to all those individuals, businesses and service clubs, etc. who helped to make our annual charity auction the tremendous success that it was.

It is an event such as this that truly shows the spirit of rural Albertans and in particular those individuals living within the greater Drayton Valley area.

If we were to thank each individual or business etc. separately, the list would be endless. But I think it is fitting to note individuals such as Wendy Sekura and his excellent staff of Sekura Auctions.

They have and continue

to give us their whole-hearted support and none of this could have been possible without them. Their service received in this association to date is truly commendable.

Additionally, Mr. Mitch Trenholm from Derrick Mall,

Marge Rupertus and Judy Millhouse our coordinators, the clients, board members and staff who gave so freely of their time and particularly, all those individuals and businesses who not only so generously donated to the auction, but purchased the items of their choice.

We have estimated that this year's auction raised in excess of $14,000 towards our new building and made the hope of a new facility that much closer.

Again, thanks Drayton Valley and area and remember that our new slogan says it best - We're proud of it all!

Parkland questioned...

Dear Editor,

So the county of Parkland would like to continue operating our schools. One must really question, why? If Drayton Valley schools were money losers you can be assured the county wouldn't be in the least bit interested in operating them. The county would lose 17.9 per cent of their pupils and 19.5 per cent of their assessment base if the ID forms a new school district. Therein lies the answer, money.

Yes, we would have a smaller school district. Then maybe we would have more input into what goes on and a district based here would hopefully be more responsive to the needs of our local children. Maybe when the weather is bad we can get our schools closed without someone who is entirely out of the area saying yes or no.

Mr. Tkachuk implies that the ID would be stuck with paying for renovations to H.W. Pickup and Evergreen when in fact the cost would be divided among the county, ID, and government.

According to the Education Review Committee the new school district would benefit financially from an improved assessment base, which on a per pupil basis, would increase by 50 per cent. Therefore, local residents would benefit from either reduced taxation or revenues to the schools would be increased while still being able to maintain the smaller schools.

The education review also reveals that county transportation is utilized 127.5 per cent. In other words, the buses are overloaded! A quick call to the local RCMP tells me that this is definitely against the law, yet the county forces the drivers to take more children than they should legally carry.

Mr. Tkachuk further entices people to vote county by hinting at operating a kindergarten. The people petitioning for them to do so should inquire as to where they would put it. Most likely they would stick another one of those lovely portables on Eldorado and pile them on already overcrowded buses.

I strongly urge people to be informed before they vote. By being informed, I don't mean by rumor or someone else's say so. Read the summary report by the review committee and make an informed decision.

Dear Editor,

Just when I thought I had heard just about every foolish remark, someone comes along to amaze me with another.

My neighbor and I were in town having coffee and we were told by a lady we should be doing our business and shopping in Stony Plain since we hope to stay in the County of Parkland.

I have lived in the Tomahawk and Drayton

Valley areas all of my life, and my neighbor has lived here for the past 14 years.

We in the Tomahawk area have supported Drayton Valley very well. I resent being told to take my business elsewhere. I would very much like to hear what the chamber of commerce has to say on this subject.

Town office

Consortium bid decision soon

The Pembina Educational Consortium should know this week whether its plans to purchase the town office have been accepted.

The consortium's offer to buy the downtown building, estimated to be in the $200,000-$300,000 range, is currently being reviewed by town officials.

The town is moving into a new administrative complex following renovations to the Centennial Arena.

Consortium executive director Joe MacLellan said his organization would like to know as soon as possible whether its offer has been okayed so it can go ahead with planning or look for alternatives.

The consortium has been waiting for a decision for over a month, he added.

MacLellan noted that increased visibility within Drayton Valley is the civic building's chief attraction.

"You have more parking and a lot more resources available to you at downtown locations." If the organization does receive the go-ahead from the town, the consortium should be ready to move out once its existing lease expires in the summer of 1989.

Renovations would probably take two or three months, MacLellan said.

But he also stressed that a major purchase such as this would also require the approval from the minister of advanced education.

Meanwhile, plans for expanding the consortium into Rocky Mountain House are also pending.

MacLellan said there have been no further developments since a needs assessment was undertaken late last year.

"They are still very interested," he said of the nearby community.

Rocky Mountain House officials will be attending the March 14 meeting of the consortium's regional advisory committee to further the discussions.

MacLellan said the needs assessment had "very positive results" in showing that post-secondary educational programs were in demand in the community.

Century 21 earns designations

The week of February 21-27 was an exciting one for Drayton Valley's Century 21 Hi Point Realty office.

It was learned that Wayne MacKinnon, Audrey MacLure and the whole office were being recognized by the national Century 21 company.

Awards will be presented to them personally in Red Deer today (Tuesday).

MacKinnon will receive the Centurian Award, a designation obtained by less than one per cent of all sales people in the Century 21 system.

He was honored early in his career with an invitation into the real estate firm's President's Club two-years in a row.

For MacKinnon, this is his third Centurian designation.

MacLure is the recipient of the Century 21 Gold Club award, which is obtained by only seven per cent of the national sales force. This is the second consecutive year she has been honored with the designation.

The office is also being recognized by the national organization with an outstanding achievement award for the final quarter of 1987.

Finally, the week was capped by the announcement that realtor Natalie Gibson was to be one of the guests of the prime minister's reception at the close of the Olympic Games in Calgary. Gibson's father and husband accompanied her to the reception.

Town receives provincial grant

The Town of Drayton Valley has received a provincial grant of $860,000.

The financial assistance, provided under the Alberta municipal grant program, is for the expansion of the sewage treatment facility.

"In order to meet current standards and to accommodate further growth, town council will be proceeding with a major expansion of the sewage treatment facilities shortly," MLA Shirley Cripps said in making the announcement.

"I am pleased that the province is able to assist with the financing of this worthwhile project," the MLA added.

The Alberta municipal water supply and sewage treatment grant program assists municipalities with the high cost of water and sewage projects. Projects are cost shared between the province and the municipality, with encouragement to design and implement cost effective facilities and emphasis on local level responsibility for decision making.

Frank Maddock, wrestlers practise a few moves to get ready for the provincial tournament.

Stamina and energy

High school club wrestles to the provincial 'A's

By Stacey Orleny
One of the most demanding sports requiring an abundance of stamina and energy is wrestling.

The Frank Maddock high school wrestling team is a new group, that began in December.

In this short period of time they have reached a high goal.

Dave Schwindt, coach of the wrestling team, is no stranger to the demands and training team members need. In the past he coached the school wrestling team and Warriors (boys) basketball squad.

Originally 25 to 30 boys turned but this number dwindled to a mere nine - Randy Sather, Ken MacKenzie, Joey Hutzal, Robert Ervert, Scott Wizing, Ken Roberts, Jonathan Hiebert, Trevor Miller and Rod Mykituk.

Another wrestler is Wayne Kuyak. "He's only in Grade 8; he's good and dedicated and if he continues on to high school he'll be better," said Schwindt.

The nine members participated to two exhibition tournaments in St. Albert recently along with wrestlers from Edmonton and surrounding area.

Only six out of the nine went to the zones held last month. Of the six wrestlers five of them placed in the medals: Sather and MacKenzie received first; Ervert placed second, Hutzal and Roberts each placed third.

The five then advanced to rural provincials in Wetaskiwin. Sather, MacKenzie and Ervert each placed third.

These three have progressed to the provincial 'A' tournament to be held in Edmonton at the Jasper Place Composite school.

The ideal sport...

"Wrestling is an individual sport and an ideal sport for any size of guy. There are 19 weight categories and anyone from under 100 pounds to 200 pounds can join," says Schwindt.

The other team members are just beginning to wrestle but Sather has been wrestling for three years.

He trained at Wetaskiwin for two years before moving to Drayton Valley.

He placed third in the provincials and eighth in the nationals last year. He also had a European tour where he competed against wrestlers from France, Italy and Norway.

Next year he hopes to continue to wrestle and he'll be teaching students at the junior high school.

Girls' hockey

Nelson's come 2nd at Wabuman

Drayton Valley girls' hockey team finished second at a weekend tournament at Wabuman.

Cathy Stuhl's second period goal helped Nelson Atoms to a 1-0 win over the Alder Flats Alley Cats in their tournament opener.

Bantam hockey

Norette whipped in playoffs

The Norette Oiler bantams bowed out of provincial playoffs Sunday night.

The Oilers dropped an 11-2 decision to Barrhead and lost the two-game total goal

Kerri Baumann scored twice as Nelson's edged Wabuman 5-4 in their second game. Lisa Kwiszkowsky, Maureen Bannard and Brenda Carrothers had singles.

In the final, Lisa Cooper scored three goals as Warburg downed Drayton Valley series 21-8.

Kevin Bergquist and Mark Hansen had the Oiler goals as they trailed 2-1 after the first and 5-2 after 40 minutes. The Oilers were out-

5-1. Maureen Bannard had the lone goal for Nelson's.

Nelson's next game is tomorrow (Wednesday) at 8 p.m. against Alder Flats. It's the second game of a best-of-three provincial playoff series. The Drayton Valley girls won the opening game 4-3.

shot 46-28 in the contest.

With their league and provincials out of the way, the Oilers only have two tournaments left this season.

Local boxers win decisions

Four members of the Derrick Boxing Club scored victories at a weekend card in Spokane.

Michael Hodgkinson, fighting in the 35-pound class, was a unanimous decision. Shawn Harden, in the 95-pound class, also scored a unanimous decision and Mark Reno, in the heavyweight division, won his bout on a unanimous decision.

Wen Little stopped his opponent in the second round for his win in the 175-pound light heavyweight class.

Carl Schmidt, who also made the trip south of the border, lost a split decision in the 110-pound class and Russ Pruden didn't get a fight.

The Derrick club hopes to host the Spokane fighters here around the end of the month in a 15-bout card.

Two other Derrick club members travelled to Viking on the weekend.

Eric Flanders defeated a boy from Hobbes in the 95-pound class and Rodney Stephenson, in his first fight of the year, lost to a Lloydminster boxer.

Tourney winners

Once in a lifetime

The Stan Kurty's rink of the Drayton Valley Curling Club made a bit of history last week, when it scored an eight-ender in league action. It's the first eight-ender for all of them: Stan (left), Stan Kurty (second), Bruce Boies (third) and Kurty (fourth).

Hoop season ends

For Amazons, Warriors

Basketball season ended last Friday night for the Frank Maddock Warriors and Amazons.

The Warriors dropped a 53-51 decision in the final conference final while the Amazons came out on the short end of a 48-25 decision against the Barrhead girls.

The Warriors blew an eight-point lead with five minutes to play. The teams were tied 26-26 at the half.

Rick Hanas led the War riors with 22 points and Steve Thompson added 14.

Carleen Howarth led the Amazons with 13 points and Veronica Martin added seven.

Both Barrhead teams advance to the zones this Friday at St. Albert.

Martial Arts

Club takes home gold

The Drayton Valley Martial Arts Club came home with a total of nine medals from the Western Canadian Tae Kwon Do championships in Kamouré late last month.

Gold medalists included Ross Kjorlie, Dan Lyvor, Linda Nero, Danny Nero and Dale Jones.

Trevor Walper took a silver medal, while Shane Walper, Christopher Urchysyn and Curtis Walper collected bronze medals.

Fighters will be coming from as far away as the United States to compete at the event.

Ski hill likely to remain closed up

Unless there's a big snowfall the Drayton Valley ski hill will likely stay closed.

That's the word from club president Dale Rand.

Mild temperatures have all but wiped out all the snow at the hill.

Despite their later than anticipated start, the ski hill was open for 26 days.

However, revenues will be down drastically. For instance, the club had budgeted for 80 family member ships and only sold eight.

Boat and Sportsmen's Show

Tackle and release techniques to be demonstrated

Fishermen searching for new improved techniques will have their prayers answered at the 20th annual Edmonton Boat and Sportsmen's Show.

The five-day show at the Northlands Agricore runs from March 9 to 13.

A 40-foot long fishing simulator tank stocked with live fish will be one of the highlights.

The simulator tank containing 3000 gallons of water, has clear glass walls permitting spectators to see the action.

Professional fishing guide Irlk Hühner of Edmonton will use the tank to demonstrate the proper techniques at tackle and release in a simulated natural environment.

The fish will be provided by Alberta Forestry, Lands and Wildlife to promote the Catch and Release program. The fishing simulator will be located in Hall B.

Hühner, specialists in structure fishing for trophy walleyes and northern pike and is well known as an angler educator.

Jim McLennan, one of Alberta's top fly fishermen, will demonstrate his prowess at the casting pool in Hall C of the Agricore.

In addition, the Edmonton Fish and Game Association will have displays spotlighting fishing in Alberta.

And for those looking for the best fishing spots, there will be a large number of commercial exhibitors at the show extolling the merits of their areas.

The Edmonton show will be open to the public from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday, March 9 and 10 from noon to 10 p.m. on Friday and Saturday and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday, March 13.

Early May snow storm?

If you were hoping to get an early start on the ball season forget it.

According to the 1988 edition of the Old Farmer's Almanac, there's a lot of winter left.

Here's what the almanac is calling for this month:

- 5-9 cold and snow
- 10-18 mild rain snow
- 19-22 cold, light rain
- 23-27 sunny, very mild
- 28-31 mild rain

Next month doesn't look much better:

- 1-3 clear mild
- 4-7 cold snow storm
- 8-9 clear mild
- 10-13 cold snow storm
- 14-16 light snow
- 17-21 sunny and snow
- 22-25 rain
- 26-30 cold snow and rain

Believe it or not the Old Farmer's Almanac is also calling for a snow storm in early May.

Can the weather man really be trusted?

Last Thursday for example the weather office predicted a high of 9c. Instead the area was blanketed with snow and 21.

Special needs education

'Poor choice of words'

Concerns about the education of children with special needs were alleviated by a meeting last month, says Eldorado school teacher Randy Hopkins.

Hopkins attended a presentation in Edmonton by Judith Anderson, lawyer for Alberta school boards, who discussed the province's proposed new School Act.

Basically, it was some poor choices of words that scared people — the big one being "non-educable," said Hopkins who teaches special needs education.

Parents of children requiring special education were concerned about who would be classified by the government as non-educable, he added.

"There are a lot of kids that could fall in that range," he said.

Hopkins said parents at the meeting were relieved to hear that the term related to children "so medically fragile" that they could be in danger in a school setting, and there could possibly be better settings.

The government "estimates that fewer than 50 kids would fall into this category in Alberta," he added.

Hopkins later discussed the results of the Edmonton meeting with the Drayton Valley Special Needs Association, a support group which held concerns about the effects of the new School Act.

Hopkins noted that the legislation will set into law the ability of parents to appeal to their school board and the minister of education if they are unhappy with their child's placement or school program.

Customers can expect refunds

TransAlta has received approval from the Public Utilities Board to pass on to customers a refund which arises from the recent finalisation of 1986 utility costs pooled by the Electric Energy Marketing Agency.

TransAlta customers were benefiting from a refund which resulted from the adjustment of 1985 costs to the marketing agency. This refund expired at the end of December.

With the board's approval, TransAlta is now continuing reduced rates for the rest of 1986. Customers will experience a similar level of refund, with some minor adjustments to the different rate classes.

Check your TransAlta bill for the exact level of refund.

Feline leukemia cases increase...

The diagnosis of feline leukemia has been on the increase in town, says a local veterinarian.

However this may be the result of improved testing techniques, said Dr. Kathy Josephson.

She added that earlier tests no longer mean that only clinically sick animals can be diagnosed.

Feline leukemia is similar to AIDS in that it suppresses a cat's immune system.

While there is a vaccine available to prevent the disease, there is no cure once an animal has been stricken by the virus.

Feline leukemia is extremely contagious and can be spread in the cat population through nose to nose contact, said Josephson.

Decision still on hold

Drayton Valley has still not won the right to join the Battle River Tourism Association.

The town is waiting to hear back from the organization which currently has the issue before its boundaries committee, said town manager Manny Deol.

The committee is discussing plans for the extension of its borders, he added.

Despite the delay, the town has placed an advertisement in the Battle River magazine, which is slated to be out this spring.

Alberta Heart & Stroke

Local response 'fantastic'

Money raised by the Alberta Heart and Stroke Foundation surpassed last year's total by a wide margin. Drayton Valley coordinator Judy Buerkert called the response 'fantastic'.

A total of $8,853 was raised during last month's fundraising drive. Last year roughly $3,000 was donated.

Buerkert, who along with Luanne Ties organized the drive, said several groups should be thanked for making this year's fund raising camaign such a success.

I think a big bouquet of thanks should go to all the canvassers including the real estate companies that were involved for giving their time so selflessly, she said.

About 150 canvassers volunteered their time to the drive about 10 miles (has n 1987).

Buerkert said the real estate firms were asked to ask for donations from the business sector.

She also credited the generosity of Drayton Valley and area residents for making the fund raising efforts of her organization worthwhile.

The Alberta Heart and Stroke Foundation is a non profit group geared to fighting heart disease in the province.

The foundation says that donations have been partly responsible for the overall decline in heart related illnesses over the past years.

Approximately 90 cents of each dollar raised by the foundation goes toward other research or education.

Cheque for life

The Life Support System received a $2,100 cheque last week from Nueren Resources Ltd. to help purchase additional units and maintenance. Nueren representative David Davis (right) hands the cheque to Gina Armstrong, vice-president of the support system, and Bibi Johannsson (left), treasurer of the group.

Disaster services course held

A recent disaster services training course provided local participants with a valuable understanding of how groups must cooperate during times of emergency.

The five-day workshop, held just outside of Ottawa, was attended by town representatives Maury Deol and Diane Turner. Hospital officials Sylvia Booth and Mike Namchuk also attended.

Deol said the four participants from Drayton Valley were the only representatives from Alberta at the seminar. He added groups from across Canada were invited to the course, which ran Feb. 22-26.

Participants learned that it is very beneficial to be prepared, said Deol. "These kind of courses keep you aware of such situations."

Sylvia Booth, director of patient services at the hospital, said the workshop focused on the interrelationship between the municipality and the hospital during disasters.

Deol noted that the town is currently revising its Disaster Services Plan, which should be completed within the next month.

The course took place at the Emergency Disaster Services Preparedness College in Armory, Ont.

Member's dance

The chamber of commerce holds its first-ever membership dinner and dance on April 22.

The highlight of the evening will be formal presentation of certificates to all attending members.

A dance and other entertainment, including a performance by actress/singer Loris Cooper, will follow. First Choice will be providing the music.

Membership committee chairman John Mulligan said the first annual membership dance tied in nicely with its initial plans to hold only a spring dance.

He said his committee will be contacting all chamber members prior to March 13 to see if they plan on attending. After March 15, tickets to the dance will be available to the public.

The dance takes place at the Levee Hall beginning at 6:30 p.m.

County appoints hospital rep

The County of Parkland has agreed to the new system of representation on the Drayton Valley hospital board, but only just.

Last month council approved Division 7 Councillor Geoff Hampton as their representative on the board. Hampton will be representing the western tip of the county on the boundaries of the province (1911 to 222).

The reorganization of the board reflects the new political boundaries created by the formation of ID 222.

The proposal from district administration has Drayton Valley, ID 14 and ID 222 with two representatives each on the hospital board while the County of Parkland is limited to one representing about 1,500 people.

However, county council would like to see two representatives on the board, the same as other municipalities.

Councillors plan to inform the hospital board they are unhappy with the new format.

AIDS victims have right to continue in school system

Students in the County of Parkland school system may become infected with or who are exposed to the AIDS virus will have the right to continue attending school.

That's one of the guidelines for implementation of an AIDS and the public schools policy adopted by the board heard at their meeting last month.

Students affected with the AIDS virus have also been given the assurance that information on about their medical condition will remain confidential.

Furthermore, they'll be provided with teaching assistance to allow them to continue with their studies in keeping with their ability to undertake them.

As far as affected employees of the public school system are concerned, the guidelines provide assurance they'll be easily employed in keeping with their ability to perform their jobs.

They'll also be protected by confidentiality.

The AIDS policy itself states that the board of education recognizes the health concerns raised by the presence of the Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS). It is so understood that any system response to this concern must be rational and responsible.

Therefore the actions of the board will be guided by the following principles:
The board will strive to protect the rights and health interests of individuals in accordance with the laws of this country. The board will consult with appropriate qualified authorities when necessary, in order to resolve issues related to the AIDS disease. And the board will endeavor to provide accurate objective and current information on the subject through approved curricula and programs.

Superintendent of Schools Marv Thachuk told trustees that the policy may undergo future revisions but for now it suits the system's needs.

Never play poker with a man named Ace.

OIL NOTES

Gulf Canada Resources Ltd. has received the blessing of Rocky Mountain House town council for an oil well near Mud Lake.

Two years ago council refused to support a drilling proposal for the same site after residents raised concerns over possible traffic and odor problems from the oil well.

The company wants to drill for oil but expects to encounter low levels of potentially deadly sour gas, no higher than two per cent.

A citizens' group opposed to a sour gas producing oil well near Red Deer wants to postpone a hearing on the application pending the results of a sour gas study in Calgary.

The Concerned Citizens of Balmoral have asked the ERCB to delay consideration of the Bonanza Oil and Gas Ltd. proposal for Red Deer's eastern outskirts.

Meansville a second group with over 60 names on a petition plan to speak in favor of the well.

The United Farmers of Alberta and the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce are pleased to work with the Westerner dairy show committee to recognize such deserving individuals. The

Comment

Winter holiday a preference

Albertans should have a winter statutory holiday but only by foregoing one from the summer.

Opposition Leader Ray Martin is right when he says a holiday between Jan. 1 and April 1 would be an excellent tonic to recharge the batteries of Albertans — making them more productive the rest of the year. However, Albertans already have enough statutory holidays, most get 10 days off a year including the non-statutory Boating Day and Heritage Day.

Albertans might think they need an annual statutory holiday to ease the winter blues but most would change their minds if it meant moving a summer holiday to the winter.

If Albertans want a long weekend in the mid winter, the schedule should change but not at the expense of adding an extra holiday to the calendar.

Yellowhead

Criticism due to lack of effort

Jon Clark's ability to help the Yellowhead has been criticized due to the amount of time and effort his cabinet posting requires. With the recent announcement of the Community Futures Program that criticism should be laid to rest.

Already one region of the Yellowhead has been approved for the program. This region contains Hinton, Grande Cache, Edson, Wildwood, Jasper and all of Improvement District 12 and 11.

The region that includes Mayerthorpe will have its approval soon said Wendy Gould, Mayerthorpe's economic development officer. And the benefit from the program will help.

The main object of the program is to help individuals and groups bring about a permanent reduction in unemployment.

While the federal government will provide over

1.5 million funding, over a period of five years, the responsibility for getting the project off the ground belongs to the communities.

Each will have to send a representative to form the Community Futures Committee. Together they have several options they could pursue to create employment.

The option other than the committee option, the program offers are: self employment initiatives, a business development centre, a community initiatives fund, relocation and exploratory assistance, direct purchase of institutional training and a designated communities option.

A BDC will provide funding, up to $75,000, to business ventures that can find other funding. It will provide advisory and investment services to small businesses.

Another key option is the self-employment initiative. This will provide income support while the business is being established to a maximum of $180 per week.

When Mayerthorpe completed their economic development survey, they identified several economic concerns that needed to be addressed with either financial support or informational support. The program offers that support and when it becomes implemented will help the economic future of Mayerthorpe.

The other members of our region are County of Barrhead, County of Lac Ste. Anne, Improvement District 15, Barrhead, Fox Creek, Mayerthorpe, Swan Hills, Whitecourt, Estevan, Fort Assiniboine, Oneway, Sanguin, Alexis Indian Band, Alberta Beach, Ross Haven, Sunset Point and eight other summer villages.

That's close to the goose that lays the golden eggs. Let's hope that the committee that's struck can give it a long and happy life.

Fun and helpful

"I thought it would be fun and it would help people cross the street safely so they wouldn't be in accidents," says Patty Weiss who is Patrolter of the Month of February at St. Anthony's School. Weiss can be seen working hard at her duties during lunch hour.

Tourist promotions for Zone 5

Bringing visitors and new dollars into the communities through area promotion is the major objective of the Battle River Tourist Association (BRTA).

To help meet this objective the association will spend over 40 days during the next 12 weeks promoting the Zone 5 area at various trade and sportsman shows.

In addition to the show circuit, Jean and Sam MacDonald of Ol Macdonalds Campsite and representing the Alberta Private Campground Association, are currently on a 48-day trade and sportsman show circuit in the United States and Western Canada. BRTA was in position to provide 10,000 Zone 5 brochures for distribution at the latter shows.

BRTA members were exceptionally pleased with the new 1988 Battle River Country Visitors' Guide, the regional map brochure and the new 1988 events brochure just off the press.

In total, BRTA has published 110,000 pieces of 1988 promotional literature. These three brochures, distributed at the shows, are major selling tools for the Battle River Country area known as Tourist Zone 5.

The association also uses large colorful static pictorial displays to promote all areas of the Zone 5 region. Qualified counsellors attend all shows.

You finally made it.
HAPPY 10th Carol!

Set goals

Extra time by using good management

Too little time and too much to do is a common condition for many families. Every day demands seem to engulf the day, leaving little time to pursue those things you enjoy. You do, however, have choices in how you spend your time.

The first step is deciding what you want to get out of life. Set some goals, and efficiently pursue those goals. Time management doesn't mean being busy all the time. It means making the best use of your time by doing tasks of top value to you!

Good time management brings with it increased relaxation, reduced stress, greater personal satisfaction and successful goal accomplishment.

We have all said, and often hear from others, the statement, "there just isn't enough time in the day." You can make time though, for the people you value and for the activities worth doing. Begin by prioritizing each day with the "To Do" list. Each evening write a list of everything you have to do the next day. Be sure to include activities that will help you reach your goals. Label each activity listing with an A, B, or C - A for high priority tasks, B for those of medium value and C for trivial or unnecessary tasks. Then, when you start your day go through the list, doing all the A's before the B's and the B's before the C's. Whether you actually complete the list is insignificant compared to the fact that you've made the best value of your time by doing the important "A" activities first.

This process can take some time to implement and become habit forming. As well, emergency or unexpected situations you can't control will arise if the activities of your list aren't completed that day don't be discouraged. You probably wouldn't have gotten them done using any other method and you did have the time to work on those important "A" items. Notice and enjoy what you did accomplish!

The steps of analyzing and planning your time are important steps though many would say. There's not enough time for that kind of planning. "Make time!" Think of planning time as an investment. Taking time to plan now, can save you time later. As well, giving the same consideration to time as money can help you use it wisely.

Requests on hold

County of Parkland seeking money from the seniors and handicapped transportation grants must get together if they want council's ear.

Requests from the Reformed Christian Association and St. Matthew Lutheran Church were put on hold last month until other groups make applications for the $25,000 remaining from the 1987 grants.

Alberta Transportation gives the funds to municipalities on a per capita basis to help cover costs of transporting seniors or the handicapped.

Rebooth was seeking $12,540 to help buy a 12 passenger van for its residents. Earlier this year the group received $10,000 from the grant.

St. Matthews asked county council for any amount to help build a $6,000 wheelchair ramp for their Spruce Grove church.

High priority on long-term care, services to seniors

Currently, just over 100,000 Albertans (eight per cent of the population) are over 65 years of age.

During the next 20 years the number will rise to 300,000 or 10 per cent of the total population.

We have to plan now for the future needs of a growing number of senior citizens. The Alberta government places high priority on long term care and services for senior citizens. This commitment in quality care together with projected increases in the number of elderly led to the establishment of this Long Term Care Committee on Senior Citizens.

The committee was asked to assess the impact of changes in the demographic and health care environment over the next two decades on the long term care system in Alberta and to develop a plan for meeting this challenge. A discussion paper, New Vision for Long Term Care, was released in mid February and the committee is asking for comments on it in the form of written responses. Final policy will be based on a review of all submissions.

MLA's Report

For further information or a copy of the report please write to Dianne Mirosh, Chairman, Long Term Care Committee, 503 Legislature Building, Edmonton T5K 2B6. Telephone 427 1837.

The issue of safety at the junction of highways 13 and 22 was raised at a recent Alder Flats meeting.

Although no incidents have been reported since the stop signs were relocated, it was felt that safety would be even more improved with the installation of lights at the crossing.

I asked the minister of transportation about this and was told this crossing has been identified as a potential site for lighting since it is the intersection of two primary highways. A further assessment will be done with regard to alignment, background lighting, topography and traffic volumes. In the meantime the intersection will be close monitored.

No obligation

Door-to-door salesmen have been in the Thorby area recently and some Thorby residents told me they felt they had been pressured into buying the product.

If you allow a salesman into your home for a product demonstration, remember - you are under no obligation to buy. If you're uncomfortable having the salesman in your home you have every right to ask him to leave.

Should you decide to buy before signing anything it might be wise to get a second opinion from a relative or neighbor. What if you change your mind after signing a sales contract? Well you can cancel the contract as long as you hand deliver or send a letter double registered to the office of the seller within four days of signing the contract (Make sure you obtain a signed note of receipt from the seller should you hand deliver your cancellation letter).

Alberta Consumer and Corporate Affairs have excellent consumer guides and tip sheets on direct sales which they will gladly send you. Just call 427 5742 in Edmonton.

I can be reached through my Edmonton office during the week at 422 9156; call toll free through Zenith 22433. My Drayton Valley constituency office is open Mondays through Thursdays, the number there is 542 3355. My residence phone number is 662 3754.

What is the church?

Only truth can satisfy

By Pastor Glen Lons
Drayton Valley Alliance Church

To some people the church is a social club or a cultural society.

Others see it only as an anachronism, a museum of traditional and historical ideas.

Still others think of the church as an institution for those who are intellectually weak or emotionally unstable. In writing to Timothy the apostle Paul says the church is the household of God, the pillar and foundation of the truth.

The church is a household — a family of people — a community of faith. It is made up of people who acknowledge the sovereignty of God and accept the salvation offers.

The church is the pillar and foundation of truth. That is the people of God are the custodians of the truth. In a practical sense this means the church holds the answer to the central questions of life.

From
the Pastor's Pen

Where did I come from and where am I going? What is the meaning of life? How can I find inner peace?

Only we find the truth regarding these questions. It will be below at the center. Of course, in our materialistic society we have many false answers, and which tend to distract us from the pain of emptiness.

However, in the quiet moments of life these questions are answerable. Only the truth can satisfy.

In its simplest truth is a proposition that is a person. That person Jesus Christ. God revealed in human form Jesus said, "I am the Truth." If we receive Him we are qualified to be members of the church.

Are you a member of the church? If not why?

Show celebrating 20 years...

A demonstration on sharpening axes and knives will be presented at the Edmonton local and sportsmen's show by the Fish and Game Association.

The show celebrating its 20th anniversary runs from March 9, 11, 13 at the Northlands Agrium.

In addition to demonstrating current sharpening methods Mike Saxton will discuss the different types of stones and files available and will show how to repair and replace broken axe and hatchet handles when you're out ramming in the woods.

The Fish and Game Association will also present other demonstrations and educational displays, all designed to focus attention on the conservation and effective management of fish, wildlife and natural resources.

Another major feature will be the fourth annual wild duck decorative carving carving competition with more than $1,000 in prize money. A new attraction this year will be the wildlife carving exhibition, a captivating collection of animals, fish and birds other than ducks.

Kevin and Karen Morgan, coordinators of the popular contest, expect a record number of entries from carvers in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, British Columbia and Alberta.

The carving classes are lifelike painted expert and novice, expert miniature, painted and unpainted miniature painted and unpainted lifelike unpainted expert and novice, pairs, sculptures, and floating decoys (the ones actually used in hunting).

Also new will be a display of bird houses for 20 different Alberta birds and the first showing of a video on firearm safety, jointly produced by the Alberta and Edmonton fish and game associations.

A goose nesting display and 22 mounted ducks are part of a spectacular exhibit on migratory game birds. Habitat, flight paths and identification techniques will be spotlighted.

Sherwood Park Archery Lane will demonstrate different bows and offer advice to budding bowhunters and archers. There will also be a pellet shooting gallery for youngsters six to 12 years of age, which is designed to teach proper use of firearms.

The show will be open to the public from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. on the first two evenings from noon to 10 p.m. on Friday and Saturday and from noon to 6 p.m. on the final day, March 13.

Improving community life

Heart of Gold Award

Air Canada has reached agreement with community newspapers across Canada to implement a national awards program called Air Canada's Heart of Gold Award.

The program will be launched early this month in more than 700 Canadian community newspapers.

Advertisements will call for nominations of individual Canadians who have helped others or have in some way contributed to the improvement of the quality of life in their communities. The ads will describe the program and will include forms for Canadians to submit nominations of people they feel deserve recognition as outstanding citizens.

Air Canada's Heart of Gold Award program is a joint project of Air Canada and Canada's community newspapers. All nominees will receive Heart of Gold Award certificates. Nominations will be accepted at community newspaper offices. The Heart of Gold winners will be selected by a panel of judges representing newspapers within the region.

Air Canada's decision to initiate the program followed its successful 50th anniversary celebrations. The airline wants to recognize outstanding people from all walks of life who have contributed to a better Canada.

Saturday 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Deadline April 30

You may be eligible for federal sales tax credit...

Did you know you are probably entitled to the federal sales tax credit on your 1987 income tax return?

If your family income is $15,000 or less, you may qualify to receive a credit of at least $50. The size of the credit depends on your family status and is reduced by five per cent of the amount by which your family income exceeds $15,000. Your family income includes your income and the net income of your spouse or of a supporting person or of any other person who claims a personal exemption for one of the dependants under age 18 as well as certain other incomes listed on Schedule 9.

Who claims the credit

Only one person may claim the federal sales tax credit for him/herself, his/her spouse and his/her own and his/her spouse's dependants under 18.

Thus if you were married OR were the parent of a dependant child under 18 OR were 18 years old or over, you may be eligible for the credit. Claim via a tax return to claim it.

Credit varies with family status

If you are 18 years of age or over, are unmarried, have no children and are claiming no personal exemptions for dependants on your tax return, you are entitled to a federal sales tax credit of $50.

If you are a parent with a dependant child under 18 years old, you qualify for $50 for yourself and $25 for each dependant child.

If you were married and living with your spouse on Dec. 31, you may claim $50 for yourself and $50 for your spouse. If you or your spouse (living with you on Dec. 31) have dependant children under 18, you are entitled to $25 for each child provided none of the children are parents themselves.

In addition, if you or your spouse claim an exemption on your tax return for a dependant under 18 other than your children, you will receive a further $25 credit for this person as long as only you or your spouse claim a personal exemption for this dependant.

Nearly four million Canadian families and individuals will be entitled to claim this new credit on their 1987 tax returns. If according to your general tax guide, you qualify for this credit, be sure to complete and mail your tax return by April 30.

CANADA-ALBERTA Crop Insurance

If you have it, don't take it off.
If you don't have it, put it on.

Because in the last five years alone, $700 million in Crop Insurance benefits have been paid to Alberta farmers, and because of the protection it can offer you, Canada-Alberta Crop Insurance deserves your consideration right now.

COME IN TO YOUR LOCAL DISTRICT OFFICE RIGHT AWAY AND GET ALL THE INFORMATION AND HELP YOU NEED.

Sign up for Crop Insurance protection against crop losses, even if you haven't had it before, and benefit from the security of the Canada-Alberta Crop Insurance program.

Confirm your contract and up-date your All-Risk Crop Insurance for 1998, if you are already a policyholder, and make your elections for the new crop year. Do this by April 30.

Inquire about Individual Coverage: Canada-Alberta Crop Insurance can be based on your own production levels and take advantage of the experience discounts you have already earned.

To find out about Drought Insurance: Canada-Alberta Forage Insurance for hay and livestock producers has just been extended and is available in all areas of Alberta. Apply by March 31.

And do it now. Don't delay.

Apply for Forage Insurance by March 31 and All-Risk Crop Insurance by April 30.
